

The Ossie News Updates

Books and reading are very important in our school, so when World Book Day came around on Thursday 1st March, everybody was really excited to share their love of reading. From dressing up as their favourite book character, to lounging around in their pyjamas, everyone looked amazing! We had a book swap and people were able to bring in some of their old, unwanted books and swap them for new ones that they wanted to read. In our classes we had lots of book related lessons, including Math's stories and writing letters to our favourite authors. We even had the opportunity for junior and infant classes to join together to read our favourite books with each other. It was a wonderful day and we all had lots of fun!

In our school, we have been especially focusing on E-safety and the vital importance of ensuring that we stay safe online. We were lucky enough to have some special visitors come into school to talk to us and our parents about the things that we need to do to ensure that we are safe when using the internet. Some children had the privilege of taking part and watching Mr. Bradshaw's E-safety presentation along with their parents, while we also watched an informative performance by One Day Creative. Both told us some extremely important internet safety messages and gave us some vital tips to make sure that we are as safe as possible when we are online!
