

City and Country

Aim

- I can understand the differences between a 'city' and the 'countryside'.
- I can use key words about the city and countryside.

Success Criteria

- I can name 2 features of a city 2 features of the countryside.
- I can describe some differences between a city and the countryside using key words.
- I can tell my partner 3 new key words and what they mean.
- I can begin to explain some of the pros (good) and cons (bad) about living in these places.

What do I know already?

Quick Quiz

1

Name a difference between the city and the countryside.

2

What country do you live in?

3

What is the capital of England?

4

Write down two things you know already about the UK.

5

What city/town/village do you live in?

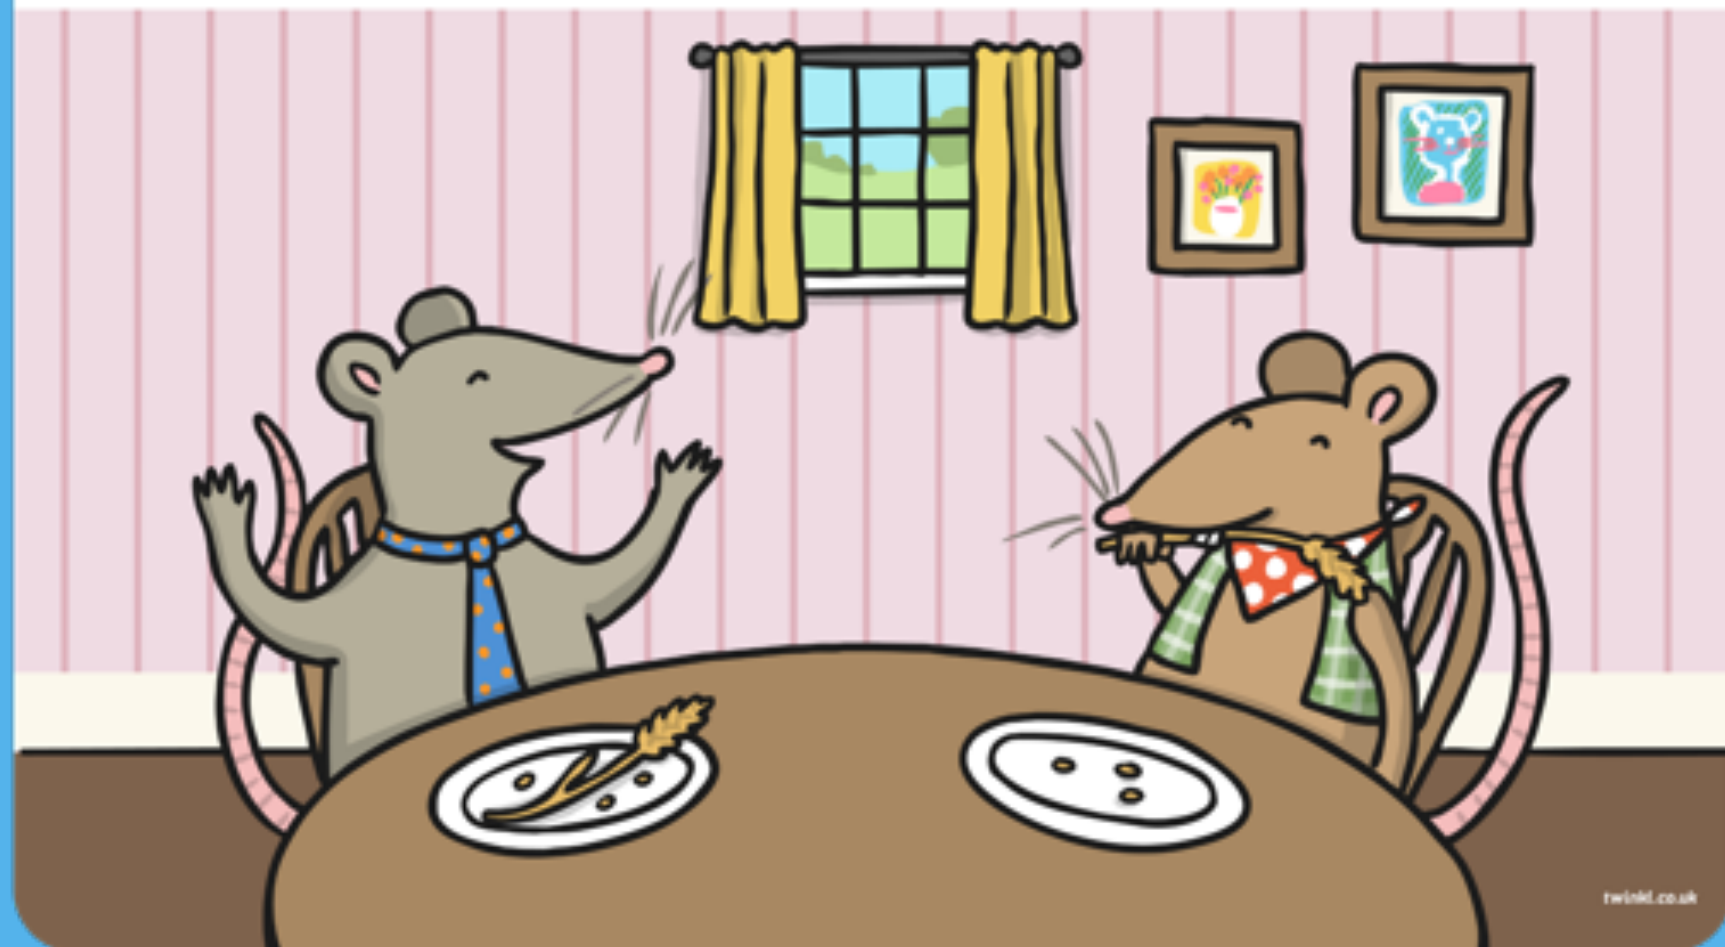

The Town Mouse and the Country Mouse

Once upon a time, a town mouse took a trip to the countryside and met a country mouse.

The country mouse invited the town mouse to his home for dinner.
They sat down to eat, but the town mouse was shocked by the country food.
He had never eaten anything so plain and boring!

The town mouse invited the country mouse to sample the food that he was used to.
The country mouse agreed and they were soon on their way to the town.

They arrived at the town mouse's home, and headed straight to the cupboard.
Inside were jars of jams and chutneys, bags of sugar, rice and pasta and much more!
The country mouse was amazed.

All of a sudden, the kitchen door swung open and the cook walked in.
They jumped out of the cupboard and ran across to the mouse hole.
The country mouse was terrified!

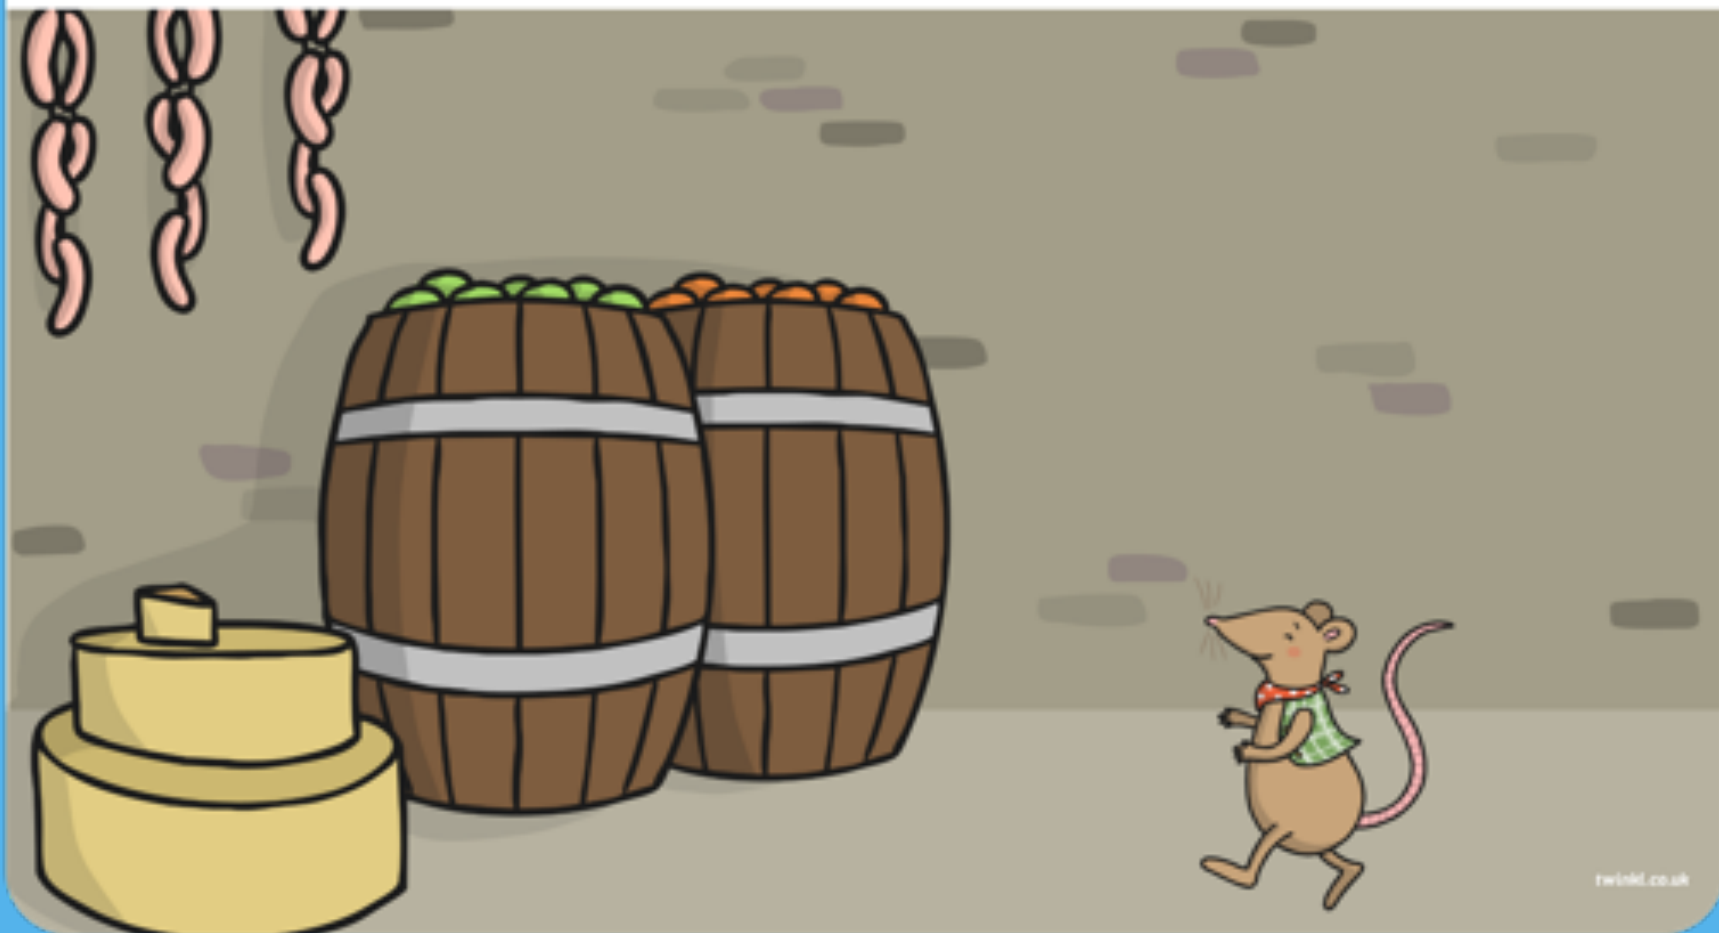

When the coast was clear, the mice ventured back out to find more food. This time they went to the pantry where they found a jar of delicious, juicy prunes. The country mouse had never tasted anything like it!

The country mouse was happily munching through the prunes when the town mouse whispered, "Quiet!" A cat had crept into the kitchen and was looking for prey. They tiptoed silently back to the hole.

After the cat had left, they decided to explore the cellar. They went down the steps, and the country mouse was astonished by the huge amount of food. There were wheels of cheese, meat, barrels of fruit and more.

The country mouse spotted a particularly tasty looking piece of cheese in the corner. He ran over and was about to tuck in when the town mouse shouted, "STOP! It's a trap!"

And with that the country mouse grabbed his things and went on his way.
“Thanks for everything, but I must go now,” he said to the town mouse, “I can’t cope with all these shocks. I would much sooner eat my boring food in peace, than eat delicious food whilst surrounded by danger!”

countryside

Photo courtesy of Victor O' (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

fields

Photo courtesy of SignalPAD (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

hay bales

Photo courtesy of amandabhslater (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

thatched cottage

Photo courtesy Mike Cattell (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

campsite

Photo courtesy of Mr Moss (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

barn

Photo courtesy of foxypar4 (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

combine harvester

Photo courtesy of D H Wright (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

farm

Photo courtesy of Peter aka anemoneprojectors (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

rivers and lakes

Photo courtesy of Karen Roe (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

farm animals

Photo courtesy of NeilGHamilton, amandabhslater, Tim Green aka atoach and Glen Bowman (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Quiet

Busy

high street

shopping centre

multi storey car park

block of flats

Photo courtesy of Lydia Chippingbrightly (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons license - attribution

Lots of houses

Lots of buildings

football stadium

Photo courtesy of stacey.cavanagh (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Art Galleries and Museums

Sort it: city and Country

city

Country

Circle Time

Circle Time Rounds using our 'Talking Object'.

Round 1:

What are the good
points and bad points
about living in the city?
In the country?

Round 2:

Where would you like to live? Why?

Aim

- I can understand the differences between a 'city' and the 'countryside'.
- I can use key words about the city and countryside.

Success Criteria

- I can name 2 features of a city and 2 features of the countryside.
- I can describe some differences between a city and the countryside using key words.
- I can tell my partner 3 new key words and what they mean.
- I can begin to explain some of the pros (good) and cons (bad) about living in these places.

